PRINTING AND TAILORING POSSIBILITIES

COLOR BLOCKING

Z3ROD uses its Water Wear Weapon Fabric which is made in France and features a water repelling treatment making it highly resistant. With the color blocking process, each panel is in the ad hoc colorway. Then, the panels are printed (flocking, serigraphic transfers, screen printing). This process features flatlock seams.

Composition: polyamide / elastane

SUBLIMATION

The fabric directly absorbs the printing which is perfectly homogeneous. The result is a high-resolution, permanent coloration that will not peel or crack. Printing possibilities are infinite and will enable you to satisfy all your design needs. This process features overlock seams.

Made in polyester / elastane

WHY A VECTORIZED LOGO?

HOW DO I KNOW IF A PDF LOGO IS SAVED UNDER A VECTORIZED FORMAT?

Zoom on the file to the max (*6400) and check that all outlines remain clear-cut.
No pixel should appear.

Pixelated

Vectorized

A FILE ENDING IN .AI / .PDF / .EPS DOES NOT NECESSARILY MEAN THAT THE CONTENT IS VECTORIZED!

BENEFITS OF A VECTORIZED PICTURE

Having a vectorized file enables us to redimension it as much as we want in order to work closely on the logo details and get the best finish as possible without losing in quality.

PRINTS

COLOR BLOCKING

SUBLIMATION

Print type

No possibility of sublimation (polyamide fabric) only serigraphic techniques, transfers or flocking are possible

Sublimation / Flocking

Cost

From 3€ to 30€ depending on the placement, number of colors and number of prints. 9€ per suit is the average

Included in the price of the product

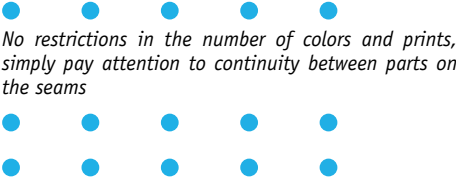

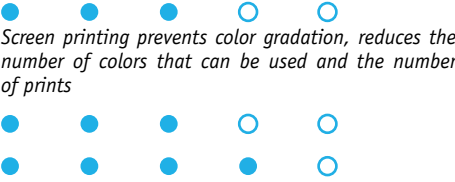

Graphic possibilities

Screen printing prevents color gradation, reduces the number of colors that can be used and the number of prints

No restrictions in the number of colors and prints, simply pay attention to continuity between parts on the seams

Elasticity

Prints durability

FROM THE MOCK-UP TO THE PRODUCT

---

The mock-ups are not the exact version of the final product.

Colors may slightly differ between those you see on the computer screen and those that will be featured on the final product once it is produced.

These mock-ups are made to double-check the placement and proportion of each print, along with the different colors and how they are put together.

Once the final mock-up is set, Z3R0D shall not be held responsible for any mistake or omission that would occur after the production. All corrections and adjustments in the logos or color changes made after the confirmation of this final mock-up will represent an additional cost. To avoid any dispute, we advise you to check this final mock-up very carefully. Once agreed, we will launch the production for your order according to it. We will not be held responsible for any mistake that you would not have noticed, be it on your behalf or on ours.
